TEACHER NIGHT AT THE ACA GOES TO WONDERLAND

Mad Hatter Tea Party for Teachers, March 18

Lafayette, LA – The Education department of the Acadiana Arts Council is inviting teachers to follow “the directions and directly they will be directed in the right direction” for Teacher Night at the AcA on Tuesday, March 18 from 4:30-6:30pm at the Acadiana Center for the Arts, 101 W. Vermilion Street in downtown Lafayette!

Don't miss this Teacher Night Mad Hatter Tea Party filled with adventures for you and your fellow educators! Show off your hat-making skills in the Mad Hatter's workshop, and enjoy refreshments and door prizes! Rose Courville, AcA Curator will be leading gallery tours of our new exhibit We Are All One: Stories and Foibles by Mahara T. Sinclair.

Teacher Night at the AcA is presented by the Education department of the Acadiana Arts Council and sponsored by Blue-Stream Services. Admission is FREE for teachers, and this event is open to adults only, please. Call 233-7060 or email Bree@AcadianaArtsCouncil.org to register.

The Acadiana Arts Council's Arts in Education program strives to make quality arts-in-education opportunities available to administrators, educators and students through performance, hands-on arts experiences, professional development training in the arts and project funding. These co-curricular arts-in-education offerings are available to students in grades K-12 and to teachers of all disciplines.

The Arts in Education program is made possible through a working partnership between the Acadiana Arts Council and the Lafayette Parish School System. The Lafayette Parish School System, the Acadiana Arts Council and the University of Louisiana at Lafayette are members of the Kennedy Center Partners in Education Team.

The Acadiana Center for the Arts is managed by the Acadiana Arts Council and has been opened to the public since 2004.
